Edit 2019-29 Club Positions: Do It Now!
Think of the photos where two and three highways converge with cars creeping along as they take turns merging into one freeway. If you wait until June to update your members and 2019-20 leadership, you will be among the thousands of clubs around the world attempting to accomplish the same task at the same time. And, in turn, may find yourself bogged down in the ◆merging◆ stream of data trying to be updated at Rotary International.

Step away from the crowd and act now to enter your 2019-20 leadership in DACdb before May 31. And through the RI Integration interface, enjoy the smooth updating of your records automatically during the July 1 rollover.

District Communication Officers' (DCOs) Spring Task List

Now is the time of year when communication with incoming club and district leaders is absolutely essential for success in the coming Rotary year. That requires a general update of 2019-20 leadership in both clubs and districts.

On the part of districts, this may fall to the DCO, the District Secretary or a paid staff person, such as a District Executive Secretary or District Administrator.

The DCO should step up and ensure that these tasks are assigned to someone and are complete within the next week or two.

Discover How to Make Committee Signups Easier & Faster with DACdb

Discover how to make committee signups easier and faster with DACdb.

Coordinating committees and all the components that go along with committees and membership can be cumbersome and tedious, making it difficult to clearly see committee roles and participants, capacity limits and volunteer needs. There is a better way and DACdb has the answer.

What is Rule of 85?

Rule of 85 is one of two types of excused absences that exempts a member from having to meet the attendance requirements. The other is Leave of Absence (LOA), and these are explained from an excerpt from the 2016 RI Manual of procedure (MOP).
